

WEEKLY BULLETIN

The official news bulletin of Holyrood Academy

DEAR PARENT/CARER,

Although the crocuses and snowdrops have started to come out at Holyrood and we are in theory in the Spring Term, it is still very chilly and wintery! Please do remind your child to wear their coat to school so that they are comfortable while walking around the site. Students are welcome to wear zip-up jumpers over the top of their blazers, but not hoodies without a zip.

Last week, it was my pleasure to attend our school show, The Addams Family. It was spectacular! I am always so impressed by the talent of our students and the dedication of our staff to bring such a great show together. It was amazing to see students from all years, from year 7 to 13, involved and having such a great time. Particularly impressive was the fact that the technical production of the show from sound and lighting to smoke and effects had no adult involvement at all! It was totally led and organised by the students. Fantastic stuff!

This week will hold some challenges with industrial action planned for Thursday 2nd March, which will mean that some teachers are on strike. I will communicate more on this at the end of today or tomorrow morning, once I know the outcome of ongoing talks between the Government and the National Education Union which take place today (Monday). Please rest assured that we will have as many students at school as we can, with safety considered before anything else.

We have not yet received the report of our recent Ofsted Inspection but expect to receive it in draft within the next week or so. We expect to receive the final report some time before Easter and as soon as we do, I will send it to you immediately. Parents will receive the report a day before it is then live on Ofsted's website. Although I am not allowed to share the outcome of the inspection, I am allowed to say that I am very proud of our students, staff and school, and of the improvements we continue to make together.

Thank you for your ongoing patience and support.

Best Wishes
MR. DAVE MACCORMICK
 Headteacher
